

Sonoma Index-Tribune

A visit with the Stanley Cup

Fire personnel with the Schell-Vista Fire Protection District pose with the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup last Sunday. Bill Hoban/Index-Tribune

Friday, September 5, 2014 11:14 AM

By Index-Tribune Report

Fire personnel with the Schell-Vista Fire Protection District pose with the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup last Sunday. The cup was won by the Los Angeles Kings this year. It was in the North Bay because members of the winning team each get a day or two with the cup. Kings General Manager and President Dean Lombardi and his wife, Wandamae, have a horse ranch in Schellville and they displayed the cup in a number of venues last weekend including a stop at the Schell-Vista firehouse to say thanks to the firefighters.